Individuals participating in research are entitled to protection of their rights and welfare. What can be done to protect research participants already facing risks associated with human trafficking? This session will explore ways that Institutional Review Boards (ethical oversight panels for human research) and researchers can help safeguard vulnerable research participants.

DATE: Tuesday, November 8, 2022
TIME: 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.
PLACE: Colloquium Library South 8th Floor and Webex
RSVP: gsu.edu/ethics-week